Julie Himo discusses her evolving practice with Droit-Inc

Torys' newest partner in the Montréal office Julie Himo has spoken with Québec legal publication Droit-Inc on her decision to join the firm.

For the last 20 years in her practice Julie has built a strong reputation as a trusted advisor to Canadian and multinational clients across industries regarding cybersecurity governance, conducting strategic risk and privacy assessments and providing counsel on a wide variety of privacy issues.

"The firm wanted to further develop its personal information protection and cybersecurity practice. It was a very good opportunity and I will be able to build this practice in Québec and across Canada," Julie said.

"I chose this firm because it has an excellent reputation and is made up of exceptional lawyers.

"They have a culture of teamwork and team building business. These are elements that attracted me a lot."
