

NOVEMBER 17, 2022 • 17:00 - 18:00 ET

Overview of CDIC's role and responsibilities in Canada's financial system

A part of the "Fundamentals of banking and insurance law" series

MODERATOR

Blair W. Keefe

GUEST PANELISTS

Gina Byrne

Christa Walker

The financial services industry has undergone transformational change in recent years. Being well-versed in the basics is vital to building and applying knowledge to this fast-evolving industry. This series will provide a general overview of the regulatory regime applicable to banks and insurance companies, with a more detailed discussion of selected topics, and will equip participants with a comprehensive overview of the essentials of banking and insurance law.

Registration is open to anyone working in a financial institution or other financial intermediary.

Overview of CDIC's role and responsibilities in Canada's financial system

Join us for the sixth session in this series to hear from senior executives from the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation, Christa Walker and Gina Byrne, as they provide an overview of the organization's role and responsibilities in protecting depositors and maintaining the stability of Canada's financial system.

This session will be presented in English.

Time: 11:45 a.m. EST webinar opens

12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m. EST Presentation

Ontario: This program is eligible for 60 Substantive minutes