

Fintech in Canada: emerging trends and new opportunities

The intersection of finance and technology continues to drive growth across key industries in Canada. In this series, we cover the trends influencing the Canadian fintech space—and how FIs, startups and others can meet the rising demand for innovation.

Featured video: Retail Payment Activities Act

11:26

The Retail Payment Activities Act will task senior leaders at payment service providers (PSPs) with building a lot more compliance into their operations. What's more, for many this will be the first time their business is subject to such significant oversight.

In this video, Andrew Bernstein and Brigitte Goulard explain why PSPs will soon receive some of the scrutiny that is usually reserved for banks—and what they can do to adapt. Also in this video:

- How this legislation aims to protect end users

- Who is exempt from the Act
- Penalties the Bank of Canada can impose
- Advice for PSPs as they navigate the Act

Click here for a transcript of this video.

Also in this series

The Canadian fintech review: Open banking

What will Canada's hybrid approach to open banking mean for financial institutions and consumers?

DEC 14, 2022

The Canadian fintech review: Insurtech

Has the insurtech revolution arrived in Canada? We discuss the industry's adoption of technology.

NOV 24, 2022

The Canadian fintech review: Fintech contracting considerations

What do the extended applications of contract regulations mean for fintechs? Find out here.

NOV 24, 2022

The Canadian fintech review: Privacy, cybersecurity, data and AI

How can fintechs innovate while keeping privacy top of mind? We discuss key considerations.

NOV 24, 2022

VIDEO

The Canadian fintech review: Staying on the right side of securities regulators

How can fintechs assess their obligations under securities laws and ensure compliance? We discuss strategic steps for navigating the Canadian market.

NOV 8, 2022

VIDEO

The Canadian fintech review: The use of blockchain in fintech

How can blockchain technology shape fintech innovation, and what regulatory impact does this bring? We discuss use cases and key considerations.

NOV 8, 2022

VIDEO

The Canadian fintech review: Fintech and anti-money laundering

Learn about the anti-money laundering regulations that govern fintechs operating in Canada.

OCT 27, 2022

VIDEO

The Canadian fintech review: The Canadian market

Canada's established financial sector provides a strong foundation for fintechs to thrive. Learn more about the opportunities and challenges.

OCT 27, 2022

VIDEO

The Canadian fintech review: Canadian developments in fintech

Fintech continues to drive transformation in the financial services sector. Watch our video covering three of the latest trends that fintechs and banks will want to keep in mind.

SEP 15, 2022

Webinars
